

To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend Carolina Almeida, who I have worked with on the production of "Interstealer". A short film completed in 2024 that won the award for "Best New Talent" at the 2024 BFX Animation Festival (Bournemouth) and received an Honourable Mention at the 2025 CG101 Short Film & Games Competition.

During her time in our production, Carolina's main roles included Modelling, UV Unwrapping, Retopology and Cloth Simulation. All areas in which she excelled, both with her artistry and technical skills. She turned 2D designs into beautiful assets that seamlessly integrated with the 3D world we had created.

As head modeller her task was to model the environment and characters of our short film while also streamlining these assets for their consecutive stages of production. She created UV tiles fit for texturing workflow and enhanced topology to suit the rigging process. Consequently, proving her proficiency in communication through her constant interaction with the texturing, rigging or animation artists.

Moreover, she rose to the challenge when an extra hand was needed in other departments such as Production Management, Texturing and Animation. Thus showcasing her adaptability and resilience. Carolina was in charge of organising our production schedule and keeping the team on track. In addition, she had the initiative to learn a new software, Marvelous Designer, for the Cloth simulation. She is an autodidact who will strive to master the skills needed to excel at her job. Her problem solving skills and proactivity making her an irreplaceable team player.

As a director I highly value a colleague who is not afraid to speak their mind and be able to give, as well as receive constructive feedback. An artist who will think ahead and take all aspects of the pipeline, as well as her teammate's opinions into consideration when making a decision. Carolina is definitely an artist who meets all of the aforementioned qualities. Her innate leadership, professionalism and enthusiasm make teamwork effortless.

I strongly recommend Carolina for any future employment, she is an incredible artist to work with who will not only strive to meet your expectations but also end up exceeding them. Carolina is a hard worker with amazing talent who will blend in seamlessly into your team.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you need any further information.

Kind regards,
Paola Tunarosa

* Private information ( such as signatures and contact information) has been removed for privacy reasons, this can be given upon request.